

Hilton tells all to Dustball

Paris Hilton, a wealthy professional blond air head is now behind bars in a Lost Angels County jail.

Dustball interviewed the jailed blonde air head for an upcoming article on narcissism for the July issue of Cat & Cactus Heaven Magazine.

In an exclusive interview with Dustball for Cat & Cactus Heaven Magazine, Paris Hilton said she believes her jail sentence was a message from God to change her party-loving lifestyle and become a positive role model for women who look up to her.

Hilton told Dustball that her imprisonment has served as a life-changing wake-up call. "I used to act dumb, Dustball. I was like a 6-week old kitten. It was an act. I am 26 years old, and that act is no longer cute. It is not who I am, nor do I want to be that person for the young girls and kittens who looked up to me."

"I know now that I can make a difference, that I have the power to do that. I have been thinking that I want to do different things when I am out of here," she said. "I have become much more spiritual. God has given me this new chance."

Hilton then told Dustball that her new-found spirituality had led her to believe that her jail stint was meant to be. "I feel that the purpose of my life is to be where I am," Hilton told Dustball. "My spirit or soul did not like the way I was being seen and that is why I was sent to jail. God has released me."

Dustball meowed her approval of this change of heart in Paris. Said Dustball "Paris, you can come over to Cat & Cactus Heaven someday and watch Cougar and me chase lizards." Paris sniffled, holding back tears, and purred "Oh, Dustball, I'd love that!"
